

We look forward to welcoming you to the head office of the New Zealand Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade.

Gold, Charles Emilius, Pipitea Pa, Thorndon
Alexander Turnbull Library, Wellington

The Ministry's head office is within the boundaries of Pipitea pā. We acknowledge the long-burning fires of the historical occupation on the land of Te Āti Awa, the mana whenua.

When we welcome you, we do so recognising Te Āti Awa and their enduring connection to this place.

Where to find us

- Come to 55 Molesworth Street, Thorndon, Wellington 6011.
- Take a lift from the ground floor to level 11, where you'll be welcomed by the Ministry's reception team.

What to do when you arrive

- Use one of the visitor sign-in kiosks in the reception area to check in.
- Take a visitor tag from beside the kiosk and put it on.
- Check the signage at reception for a detailed list of all devices that will need to be secured in a locker while in our building.
- Place these inside the lockers in front of the reception desk and lock.
- Keep the key with you until you leave.
